"Dear Sir:—Please except my sincere thanks for yours of recent date. I have given your treatment a thorough test and the benefit has been extraordinary. It has completely braced me up. I am just as vigorous as when a boy and you cannot realize how happy I am."

"Dear Sir:—Your method worked beautifully. Results were exactly what I needed. Strength and vigor have completely returned and enlargement is entirely satisfactory."

"Dear Sir:—Yours was received and I had no trouble in making use of the receipt as directed and can truthfully say it is a boon to weak men. I am greatly improved in size, strength and vigor."

All correspondence is strictly confidential, mailed in plain sealed envelope. The receipt is free for the asking and he wants every man to have it.

Teaching a Horse Tricks.

You can, with patience, teach your horse politeness—to bow to an audience, to say "No" with more or less decision, to kiss you or even laugh. The animal may be taught to bow by tapping him on the back with a whip. He bends his head in trying to avoid the annoyance. The trainer ceases the tapping, caresses him, then resumes it till he repeats the bow. He is again caressed and presented with a carrot or something of which he is particularly fond. At last it comes about that he "bows" upon any movement of the whip toward his back.

To teach a horse to say "No" a pin is fastened to the butt of the whip. A slight scratch is given to the horse's withers, about where the collar would be. At this he shakes his head and soon learns to shake it whenever he sees the butt of the whip coming near his withers.

The trainer teaches the animal "to kiss" by feeding him with apples from his mouth, gradually lessening the size of the apples till the horse does the trick without any, or he puts salt, of which horses are very fond, on his cheek, and the animal naturally licks it off.

He is taught to laugh by gently forcing the butt of the whip in at the side of his mouth, then prying his mouth open with it. Caresses and carrots follow, till at last the slightest motion of the butt toward his mouth makes him open it. He does not really laugh; he grins.—Good Words.

A Chicago Street Car Episode.

Passengers on an east bound Archer avenue car were thrown into a panic one night by the prospect of a holdup. At the sight of a wild eyed man jerking the bell rope and flourishing a huge revolver timid women sought shelter behind brave men.

Quiet was restored when the real cause of the disturbance was learned. Car 1811 had been about to cross the switch tracks at Ashland avenue when the conductor asked the man for his fare. He took a $5 bill and was about to make change when he saw the warning lights ahead.

"Wait a moment," he said and darted ahead with his lantern.

"Stop the car!" roared the excitable passenger, who saw the conductor and his $5 disappearing down the track. "He's got my money!"

The would be "holdup" man had reached the front door when the car flashed past the conductor, who was waiting for the rear platform. The passenger tried to jump from the car, but found it impossible because of the Archer avenue bridge structure. Then he made a mad dash for the rear door, where the conductor met him with a polite "Don't forget your change, sir."—Chicago Record.

BRITISH FAILURE IS CHARGED TO BULLER

London Holds Him Responsible for Reverses.

IS SEVERELY CRITICISED

Buller, Warren and Thorneycroft Reprimanded by Lord Roberts—Boers Driven from Trenches at Warrenton. Dissentions in Their Army.

LONDON, April 18.—Lord Roberts' criticisms of General Buller, General Warren and Colonel Thorneycroft continue topics of general interest. All the afternoon papers comment at length on the strictures of the British commander-in-chief in South Africa, praising Lord Roberts for his frankness and speculating upon what the publication of the dispatches at the present moment portend.

Some of them maintain there is nothing left for General Buller but to resign. The St. James Gazette is particularly scathing. Referring to General Buller's report it says: "Never in the history of armies did it happen that generals scribbled their confessions of failure and defeat, of useless deaths of men and of discredit to the flag in a manner which suggests a careful selection from the forced peculiarity of the funny man, the slangy chatter of the horse woman and the gabble of the the smoking-room late in the evening."

The Globe declares that "a more pitiable record of indecision in plan and concession in execution we have seldom read," and adds that what little reputation General Buller had left has been scattered to the winds.

Practically no developments have been reported so far in today's South African cables. A dispatch from Warrenton, dated Tuesday April 17, says:

Finding the Boers busy making new trenches we exploded lyddite shells, following up these with the Maxim. Their ambulance was afterward seen on the spot. Presumably neither side has gained any distinct advantage so far as known.

Dissention Among Boers.

MARSBURG, April 18.—Colonel Dalgetty's casualties since he has been besieged at Wepener have been 20 killed and 100 wounded. The Boer losses are reported to have been considerably heavier. After the night attack on April 12 the dead were left on the field, where they still lie unburied. There is a conflict of opinion among the leaders. Some want to attack again, while others refuse to do so. Desultory cannon firing and "sniping" continues. The Caledon Ising which arms the Boers, who are now on both sides of the river, and might be cut off if the stream was to become flooded. Five Boer guns are believed to be disabled.
